Desperate Fighting Reported Along Finnish Front

Finns Battle To Halt Drive Of Red Forces

Bitter Hand To Hand Trench Warfare Is Reported On Mannerheim Line

SOVIET OFFENSIVE FLAGGING SLIGHTLY

President Of Finland Sends Out New Appeal For Foreign Aid

By PETER DE HEMMER GUDME

HELSINKI, Feb. 15—Bitter hand to hand trench warfare raged along the Mannerheim line today and reports from the blood-stained battle zone said the Soviet offensive was flagging slightly.

The Finnish defenders on the Carelian Isthmus, fighting with their backs to the wall and knowing their defeat might mean the end of the war, struggled with almost religious fervor against the Red army legions.

In the close-quarter encounters the Finns once again resorted to their traditional daggers with deadly effect.

Line Dented

While Finnish authorities admitted the advance sections of the Mannerheim defenses had been dented by the Russian assault, the heaviest seen in Europe since the World war battles of the Somme and Ypres, they claimed the Red army still had far to go before reaching the Mannerheim line proper.

Separating the Russians from the chief fortifications, they said, are ten miles of continuous block houses, tank traps and virtually impenetrable barbed wire barriers.

Asserting the Russian attacks were becoming weaker, Finnish

Middle Atlantic States Battling Way Out Of Near Record Snowfall

(International News Service)

An old-fashioned nor-easter which buried the Middle Atlantic states and part of Southern New England under an unexpected St. Valentine's day blanket of almost record deep snow blew out to sea early today leaving a heavy trail of damage in its wake.

At least seven deaths due directly or indirectly to the snow, ice and wind were reported in New York. Two were reported in Boston.

Highway Traffic Stalled

Highway travel in many sections of West Virginia, Western and Central Pennsylvania and up-state New York was still paralyzed today. Snow drifts ranging to as high as 24 inches were reported. And beneath was a sheath of dangerous ice.

Airplane travel was virtually paralyzed yesterday throughout the storm area. The heavy winds and near zero visibility made flying impossible. The gale was so strong in New York it became necessary to fill big airliners which could not be accommodated in hangars with gasoline for ballast and lash them to loaded gasoline trucks to keep them from being blown away.

20 Inches At Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh had a fall of 20 inches of snow, the greatest since 1902.

Western Pennsylvania Is Busy Today Digging Out Of Record-Breaking Snow

(International News Service)

Pennsylvania looked forward to a day of sunshine and slightly warmer temperatures today as they dug themselves out of a record-breaking snowfall in the western section of the state.

During yesterday's blizzard it literally "poured" snow over the tri-state area, leaving a blanket 16.3 inches deep for an all time record, Weatherman W. S. Brotzman officially announced today.

Drifts Many Highways

A 40-mile gale drifted many highways and shut-in residents in central and northeastern Pennsylvania. Eleven inches of snow were reported at Harrisburg, 15 inches in Sunbury, 24 inches at Towanda.

Six inches of snowfall, the deepest of the winter, put buses out of service or behind schedule. In Philadelphia about 2200 men were

Sunk By British Warships After Firing Torpedoes At Merchant Ships

U-BOAT SURVIVES VICTIM HALF HOUR

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Two German U-boats which were linked to the sinkings of three British merchantmen have been destroyed, according to an admiralty announcement today.

One of the torpedoed British vessels was the 12,306-ton refrigerator ship Sultan Star, which was sunk 230 miles southwest of Land's End. One member of the crew was killed and 72 survivors were landed at a west coast port today.

The admiralty announced that after the Sultan Star went down, "the U-boat only survived its victim by half an hour."

The other British ships sunk were the tankers, Gretafield, 10,191 tons, and the 8,501-ton British Triumph.

According to a Reuters Dispatch from Oslo, the 2,095-ton Danish freighter Martin Goldschmidt was sunk off the northwest coast of Scotland with the reported loss of 15 crew members. Five survivors were rescued by a Norwegian vessel.

Washington Also Battles Blizzard

Activity At Capital Is Hampered By Unusual Weather Conditions

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Activity in the capital was hampered today by a most unusual happening for Washington—a blizzard.

Snow driven by a 45-mile gale all day yesterday stopped falling last night, but high winds persisted, causing drifts on all highways leading to the city and swamping hundreds of automobiles.

Capital streets were sheathed in ice, resulting in countless traffic accidents and numerous injuries as thousands of government workers drove—or attempted to drive—to work.

Schools and several government departments closed yesterday afternoon, with schools slated to remain closed today unless the weather moderates.

In nearby Maryland, Capt. Ed Pruitt of Tangier Island fell dead while attempting to moor his oyster boat during the gale.

Neutral Ships Will Be Warned

Germany Asserts No U. S. Ships Would Be Sunk Without Warning

NAZIS CLAIM RIGHT TO HALT NEUTRALS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—German quarters expressed gratification today at what was interpreted in Berlin as a disposition in the United States to concede the Reich's attitude toward neutral ships in danger zones.

This expression was voiced by authentic quarters following yesterday's warning that Germany would be legally justified in sinking an American vessel which touched at the British Gibraltar contraband control port and submitted to search there while en route to the Mediterranean.

No Sinking Without Warning

These circles, however, said they wished to correct the impression, which they attributed to Senator Key Pittman in the United States, that an American ship approaching Gibraltar might be sunk without warning.

(Editor's note: Senator Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, termed the German threat to torpedo American ships entering or leaving British contraband control ports "unjustifiable and inhumane". He added that it is within the power of Great

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 15.—Washington county detectives, state police and physicians struggled through snow drifts four to six feet deep today to reach an isolated farmhouse where two men were reported slain and the wife of one was injured trying to protect her husband from a shotgun blast.

Early reports said that Ralph Caldwell, 35-year-old farmer of South Kilbane township, seven miles east of here, was killed and that his wife was forced to take the other man's life when he placed the shotgun against his chest and commanded her to pull the trigger.

State police said the second man was Glenn Plant, 28-year-old farmhand who was discharged by Caldwell last Thursday.

Island Defense Work Is Rushed

Navy Speeds Construction Of Hawaiian And Other Pacific Island Defenses

COST-PLUS METHOD HAS BEEN INVOKED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—In a drive to rush completion of new defenses in Hawaii and other Pacific islands, the navy has resorted to the war-born cost plus method of negotiating contracts, members of congress said today.

While refusing to attach "alarmist" significance to the navy program, members of congress reported that the cry is for "speed and more speed" in rushing defense works authorized by congress in the past year. The cost plus method is being used in Alaska.

The Pacific program includes dredging, filling, building of barracks and similar naval works in Kaneahe Bay at Honolulu Bay and Johnston and Palmyra Islands, the latter small land-dots which are highly important in the air defense scheme.

Work is being rushed upon naval air bases at Kodiak and Sitka, Alaska, while the army is constructing an air base at Fairbanks. The army also is pushing for a congressional appropriation of $12,000,000 for a new air base at Anchorage, Alaska.

The apparent intensity of the effort to complete defensive works in the Pacific and Alaska, members of naval affairs committees explained, is in line with the general policy of speeding up preparedness plans in view of world conditions.

Street Car Service Resumed —Some County Schools Remain Closed

Following the close of almost twenty-four hours of continuous snowfall, when around 15 inches of "the beautiful" buried the county under a blanket of white, Lawrence county residents began digging out from under Wednesday afternoon, and by this morning, conditions were beginning to return to normalcy.

After the main streets had been scraped off by the city scraper, street cars began operating late Wednesday but the regular schedule was not maintained. Where street cars could not operate, the traction company used buses in an effort to get people to their homes from the business section.

Highways Kept Open

All main highways were kept open, Highway Superintendent E. O. Reed stated, but some trouble was encountered on Route 108, out the Harlansburg road, where traffic was rather difficult although cars could get through.

President Roosevelt Starts For Fishing Trip; Politicians Mystified

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL, en route to Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 15.—President Roosevelt headed for a "fishing cruise" in southern waters today that had political leaders guessing, both in the United States and Europe.

Last-minute secrecy concerning the port of embarkation was lifted when White House aides aboard the special train conceded that Mr. Roosevelt would board the 10,000-ton navy cruiser Tuscaloosa at Pensacola, Fla., sometime today. What course will be charted into, or through, the Gulf of Mexico remained a mystery that may well hold until the cruise is completed.

Mystery In Trip

Domestically, politicians of both major political parties pondered full import of Mr. Roosevelt's swing out to sea at a time his name was being pushed in Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska and New Hampshire for a third term.

Foreign observers wondered whether the presidential flotilla might take off from Pensacola ultimately to join the Atlantic squadron that has been maneuvering near the Dutch West Indies or to American-owned islands of that group where the marine corps has been engaging in battle practice.

There was no word on either score from Mr. Roosevelt's private car as it swung over the southern railroad tracks to the big naval and air base on the gulf, where the Tuscaloosa and the destroyers Lang and Jouett were waiting.

Trip Is Secret

Although this southern cruise followed his annual practice since entering the White House, heavier

Philadelphia-Chicago Seek Convention

Republicans To Meet Saturday

National Committee Members Are Already Assembling In Washington

CONVENTION DATE WILL BE SETTLED

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Republicans from Maine to California began gathering in Washington today for a meeting of their national committee Saturday to pick a date and site for the 1940 GOP convention and, in the course of events, attack President Roosevelt for his silence on the third term issue.

A "grudge" battle for the convention was expected between Philadelphia and Chicago, with Chicago the favorite because the Democrats a fortnight ago selected it as the site for their convention. St. Louis and Atlantic City also have made inquiries, but as yet no cash offers.

May Go To Philadelphia

Philadelphians, nettled because Chicago took the Democratic convention right out from under their noses by clever emphasis on the third term question, were reported ready to bid $200,000 or $250,000 in cash. Chicago, which got the Democratic pow-wow for $150,000, was serenely confident it could bag the GOP meeting, too.

Date of the Republican convention was expected to be fixed for late June or early July, possibly July 2 to allow nomination of the GOP presidential candidate on July 4, along with a declaration of independence from the New Deal.

Committee chairman John D. M. Hamilton, in a speech of greeting to the GOP national committee, again will chide the Democrats for failing to fix a date for their convention. Democrats placed the power of date fixing in the hands of national chairman James A. Farley so they could wait and see what the Republicans do Saturday. Once the GOP acts, Farley probably will set the Democratic date two weeks after the day the Republicans pick.

trying to open the trolley lines. The elevated and subways were jammed by residents who could reach the places of employment by no other means.

The high winds made impassable drifts, closing some of the city's main arteries.

All highways throughout the state were reported in a "dangerous condition," if not actually closed, and all motorists were advised to stay home.

Autos Abandoned

Even the Pocono Mountain dog sled derby was postponed at Buck Hill Falls because there was too much snow. Hundreds of automobiles throughout the state were abandoned in drifts.

Pennsylvania railroad trains from Buffalo and Harrisburg reached Philadelphia as much as 90 minutes late. Delaware river traffic was halted. Although Philadelphia schools remained open, parents were advised to keep their children home if they thought necessary.

Route 22 was closed in many sections between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg by large drifts. Route 15 from Harrisburg to Sunbury was also closed; the Carlisle Pike, Route 11, was blocked between Carlisle and Shippensburg and a number of other routes were reported shut off by the snow.

Schools Closed

Throughout the areas schools were closed and all airplanes were grounded. Schools in at least nine townships near Pittsburgh will remain closed today, and probably tomorrow. Pittsburgh's elementary schools, however, will re-open today.

Frantically highway workers and city employes worked all night to open roads in and about Pittsburgh. One death in Western Pennsylvania was reported as an indirect result of the storm. Walter E. Brown, 62, died from a heart attack shortly after he finished shoveling snow in front of his home at Pittsburgh.

Bus travel at Harrisburg was suspended on many lines. The schools were closed there today.

No Flood Danger

The weather bureau reported no flood danger was seen as a result of the snow. Motorists took added precautions throughout the two-day period and few accidents were reported. Trains throughout the area were behind schedule, while airplane travel in and out of Harrisburg airport was suspended.

The weather bureau pointed out that despite the severity of the snowfall and the fact that it was wet and sticky, its water content was but one inch of water for each ten inches of snow. At that rate, it was explained, there would probably be no quick rise in the rivers even in case of a sudden thaw.

Three deaths were reported as indirectly resulting from the severe snowstorms in the Harrisburg area.

At Hazleton, Harold Senkner, 30, and his brother-in-law, Frank Miller, both of Upper Quakake, jumped from a railroad engine, which they had hopped when they could not proceed in their truck because of the storm, into the path of an oncoming Lehigh Valley train.

Frank A. Grove of West Milton dropped dead of a heart attack as he shoveled snow from the sidewalk in front of his home.

The Company's snow sweeper breaking down Wednesday, because of a burned out motor, allowed traffic to pack the snow on the rails, making it impossible to operate street cars since early morning.

Weather conditions precipitated a general epidemic of postponement of minor events scheduled in this city and community last night, it is discovered by News reporters this morning. Few residents were out last night that didn't have to be out, as travel on many highways was exceedingly difficult, following the near record snow of the day.

NEUTRAL SHIPS WILL BE WARNED

Britain "by ceasing the practice of forcing our ships into its ports, to remove this very great danger.")

Authoritative quarters in Berlin reiterated that the Reich merely considers that it has a legal right to halt neutral ships, including American vessels, approaching the Mediterranean if it is known beforehand that they will be compelled to submit to search at the British control port at Gibraltar.

Could Be Convoyed

These sources insisted that under no circumstances would any American ship be torpedoed without warning unless it were within a Franco-British convoy.

(Editor's note: British circles in London today pointed out that neutral craft—including American ships—would not find it difficult to join up with carriers being convoyed by British naval units.)

They added that if a German warship or submarine halted an American vessel carrying contraband outside Gibraltar, the American vessel probably would not be sunk but would be sent to Wilhelmshaven.

There was every indication in Berlin, meanwhile, that Germany is anxious to give the widest possible facilities and consideration to American ships which remain outside the war zone.

Mrs. Mary Jane Rose Warnock.

Mrs. Mary Jane Rose Warnock, aged 93 years, passed away Wednesday evening at 9:45 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James S. Banks, of 302 Norwood avenue.

Mrs. Warnock was descended from a pioneer family. Her ancestry dates back to John Rose, who fled to Holland to escape religious persecution in England. He landed in New York in 1720 and settled in New Jersey. Later his descendants cast their lot in the vast wilderness of Pennsylvania, near Grove City.

Mrs. Warnock's great-grandfather, Isaac Rose, was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, and near the close of the war was promoted to the rank of captain. Her grandfather, who bore the same name, was a soldier in the War of 1812 under Captain Oliver H. Perry. Her father, Isaac Perry Rose, had the same adventurous spirit as his forebearers, and in his youth traveled across the United States along with the first two missionaries who carried the gospel to Indians in the Far West. FINNS BATTLE TO HALT DRIVE OF RED FORCES authorities claimed there was no danger of the Soviets breaking through the Mannerheim line.

Even where the Red army troops have scored advances, they said, the intervening belt of territory is still more strongly defended.

Claim 50,000 Killed

Russian losses during the Carelian offensive were estimated at 50,000 killed.

Reports from the battle area north of Lake Ladoga said the position of the Finns there is "good." Still further north, at Kuhmo, military advices said, the Finns have now virtually encircled the Russian 45th Division.

Soviet aircraft also were active. An unidentified Finnish ice-breaker was bombed and several members of its crew were killed.

In addition, the Russian air force carried out several bombing raids on Viborg, Hamina and Lappeenranta.

The Finnish government called more troops to active service in a desperate effort to turn back the Russian offensive on the isthmus. Men of 42 and 43 years of age were called to the colors to buttress the soldiers already at the front.

Russian advances denting the forward Mannerheim line defenses were admitted in an official communique which said the Red army advances had been made in the bitterly contested Summa sector.

Observers in Helsinki, however, expressed belief that the Russians might run the danger of forming a salient in which they might be exposed to deadly Finnish artillery cross fire.

Appeals For Foreign Aid

Finnish President Kyosti Kallio in a talk with correspondents once again appealed for foreign aid. Saying he hoped the Finnish cause "might stir onlookers abroad to offer us material help," he added:

"We are outnumbered 50 to one. If help does not arrive we cannot change our action.

"We must still carry on our fight, even if it must be alone. We are faced with the extinction of our nation, and we must fight to the last man."

President Kallio thanked the United States for its sympathy and financial aid and declared:

"After all, we are defending ideals that are common to all civilized peoples."

The high command said that everywhere save on the Summa sector the Russian advances were halted and that thousands of Soviet dead and wrecked tanks were abandoned in front of the Finnish positions.

Winter Snow Scenes

Now with plenty of snow and the weather not too cold, it is an easy matter to get some of those very interesting snow pictures that will tell the story for the future of the winter of 1940. Pick out the most interesting views around your neighborhood and show the snow where it is most interesting. Making tracks through the snow or otherwise breaking it up will add interest to the picture. It is a fine idea to take a few snapshots of the children in the snow. These pictures will prove very interesting ten years from now. Special Pan Films to fit your Kodak at

THEATER OF WAR MAY SHIFT

RUMBLING rumors of flanking movements in Europe have broadened considerably in scope. Initially the expectation was of a German push to turn the Maginot line, either at the northern end through Holland and Belgium or at the southern end through Switzerland.

Inquirers into those possibilities may have found the prospects profitless. At any rate, attention is being directed more and more to the Scandinavian countries and to the Balkans.

France and England announce utmost efforts to get supplies to Finland. Troop concentrations to oppose Russia in the Baltic are not now impressive. Unless they increase, the outlook for a major continental campaign there will peter out.

In the Balkans the powder magazine can flare up almost over night. Turkey is apparently taking a strong stand against Germany. Britain and France, by announcing their troop concentrations in the Near East, indicate their readiness for trouble should Germany or Russia attempt a thrust southward.

Ancient precedents dictate that the decisive battlefield will be Middle Europe, but in this war the scene might shift to a point where the ground preparations do not make attack look so hazardous.

HELPS FOR KNOCKERS

School census takers in Tulsa, Oklahoma, are equipped this year with small wooden mallets with rubber tips on the two faces of the head. This is not a weapon to use on reluctant citizens who don't understand what a census is about. It is a safety device to spare the knuckles of the census takers. Knuckles, it seems, have suffered in the past from rapping too much on so many hard doors. If the housewife thinks the knocker is a peddler and stays away from the door at first, the mallet makes continued knocking painless and effective.

No doubt doorbell-pushing is equally hard on finger tips, so the mallet is useful no matter what type of door signal is available.

Here's an idea that may spread. Won't the army of workers taking the ten-year federal census need something of the kind?

BUSINESS FLIGHTS

A committee of its members has been conferring with the Governor of New Jersey on a revival of the plan to move the New York Stock Exchange, or at least some of its activities, to Newark or Jersey City. The New York state transfer tax is cited as the principal reason.

This tax runs as high as $5 a hundred on sales of securities, and there is also a tax on ooth purchase and sale in odd-lot trading. It is contended that this creates unfair competition, as there is no such tax at Boston, Chicago and San Francisco.

The Governor of New Jersey is reported as holding the view that the New York Stock Exchange should maintain its present location in New York, of which it has been so long a part, but if a change of location must be made, full New Jersey cooperation is promised.

Differing incidences of taxation, or the absence of it, have widespread geographical, as well as economic, effects. When taxes are too high or too hampering, business moves out. In the case of New York, there seems to have been a considerable flight of industries into Connecticut, which has no personal income tax, sales tax or dividend tax.

Connecticut, as part of a general project to revive New England's industrial life, is having a real industrial revival, leading to an increase of production, employment and retail sales. Not all of this, of course, has come from New York. Nevertheless, the fact remains that 169 new corporations set up business in Connecticut in 1939.

SLIGHT BREAK FOR MOTORISTS

By a decision of Justice Pecora of the New York Supreme Court, which commends itself generally to motorists for its clarity and reasonableness, a local law of New York City forbidding private vehicles to be colored "fire department red" has been declared unconstitutional. The statute, signed last March by Mayor LaGuardia, was designed to make fire department vehicles recognizable on sight and afford them the quickest possible passage in traffic. In trying to accomplish this end by local statute, the city assumed a function that is possessed only by the state.

Justice Pecora did not question the city's right to regulate the use and operation of motor vehicles, but he said:

"To hold that each city might enact legislation prohibiting the possession or use of automobiles similar in color to their fire, police, health or other departments, would create a condition of confusion and chaos in the use of motor vehicles."

There has been much complaint by concerns engaged in long distance interstate trucking of the wide variance of state regulations as to tonnage, width, height and length of trucks. Apparently to date color has not been an issue. Were it to be made so, and municipalities as well as states empowered to make regulations, motoring even by the most careful of drivers would assume the aspect of an extra-hazardous occupation.

ENGLAND'S FISHERMEN AND THE WAR

Britain's million-ton fishing industry is beginning to feel seriously the effects of war, both in losses of fishing boats by mines and torpedo attacks and in the diversion of units of the fishing fleets to the pressing work of mine sweepers.

Parliamentary members from fishing constituencies appeal to the British government for more ships. Official reply has been made that commandeered vessels engaged in mine sweeping can't be restored to the fishing fleet and that no new ships are available.

Large numbers of fishermen from the Grand Banks have gone to England as volunteers for mine sweeping work.

Latest figures show that 10,000 men formerly engaged in the fisheries have been diverted to the mine-layers, mine sweepers and patrol boats and many more, it is now announced, will be called away from their nets and lines for the same services.

The whole situation illustrates strikingly the paradox of war, where useful production has to be side-tracked and destruction gets the right of way. Armies eat their heads off. Food supplies for both fighting forces and the civilian population are cut down by submarine warfare and economic warfare.

From every standpoint, including this one, war is a system that never can make sense.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ATTACHING WINGS TO IMAGINATION

The great creative geniuses of the world were fed in early childhood on fiction, not fact. Their imagination was put on wings, not bound with chains. There were no "philosophers of education," when they were little children, to sell the baby's birthright (fairyland) for a mess of pottage (realism).

Without the elves, brownies and fairies, could there have been a Burns, Lamb, Coleridge, Dickens, Stevenson or Milne?

You know how Stevenson, when a mere baby, listened for hours upon hours as his nurse read to him wild tales of fancy. We have it from Milne, in his recent autobiography, that he was read to from Uncle Remus and Pilgrim's Progress before the age of four.

"Uncle Remus was read aloud to us by Papa, a chapter a night. . . . Papa also read The Pilgrim's Progress to us . . "

Debt to Magazine

Milne tells us that his success as a writer for children he owed chiefly to Aunt Judy's Magazine, whose pages presumably were not filled with facts but with fiction. To quote:

"I have mentioned Aunt Judy's Magazine. I hope that she meant something to some of my contemporaries, for she meant Heaven to us. We had all the bound volumes; but never knew, nor know now, whether the components were still in circulation. Was Mrs. Ewing Aunt Judy? Who were the other contributors? Any poor laurels which I have won as a writer for children I strip from my head and distribute apologetically, leaf by leaf, to those of them who have remained unknown. To us the volumes of Aunt Judy's Magazine were friends as familiar and well-loved as were (in this more practical age) the volumes of the Children's Encyclopaedia to my own child. Aunt Judy was not practical. She entranced us, but never told us how to make a tricycle."

Do you realize that in some of the outstanding universities of this continent, little children in the nursery school and kindergarten are given only facts and denied the fanciful; that parents are being told to read only of the real to their babies; that little children, under the guise of "modern psychology," are having their imaginations gagged and chained?

No Appeal To Fancies

Have you observed that modern school books for young children no longer appeal to the child's creative fancies and that brownies, fairies, and animate animals have disappeared from them?

Remember this: No one year has proved conclusively that folk lore and fairy tales that are not frightful are harmful to the personality of the child, if properly balanced with social play and use of tools. The time when your child should be fired with appeals to his imagination is before he enters school; and he should not have to feed thereafter wholly on the fare of realism—not if he is going to be happiest and learn most creatively.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Should a parent ever apologize to a child, say between three and 20?

A. Yes, indeed; and before the sun goes down on the wrong done to the child.

Q. What do you think of tap-dancing for the timid child?

A. Not much, except for the child who lacks normal balance or sense of rhythm.

WINTER GARDENING

Here we are in zero weather
At the fireplace, heads together,
Planning, shall we, shall we not
Change about the garden plot?
Can we now afford the space
For a bit of Queen Anne's lace?

Still are seven weeks or more
Until springtime finds our door,
Cold the wind and white the snow
Where we're planning mint shall grow.
Bleak and barren is the spot
Where shall be forget-me-not.

Here enraptured now we gaze
Deep into the fire-log's blaze,
Seeing clumps of larkspur blue,
Marigold and zinnias, too.
Hearing wren and robin sing,
Just as though had come the spring.

Out of doors all things we know
Captives are to ice and snow.
Cold the ground where soon shall be
Blossoms of the almond tree,
But beside the fire we stay
Plotting loveliness for May.

A very cultivated woman of my acquaintance recently wrote to her daughter: "Make it a strict habit to read two books a week—one on the current 'best sellers' list and the other either a classic from Dr. Eliot's Bookshelf or one of those new factual books explaining the present world upheaval."

The wisdom of this advice you will appreciate if you compare your friends who are well-read with those who are not. In company the former are self-reliant, respected by their friends and on most of the latter's party lists because they are socially ornamental. Sensing that their neighbors and acquaintances are soon bored by dissertations on kitchen, nursery and weather problems the latter class soon develop an inferiority complex that leaves them nervous, ill at ease and reticent whenever thrown with those who explore more interesting worlds between book covers. There are few of us who cannot snatch a few hours each day for such explorations—while commuting, while the baby naps, while the roast browns, while husband reads his paper, or while waiting for sleepy time after the day's work is done.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: I am to be married at 6 p. m. in full regalia, four bridesmaids, four ushers, etc., etc. Must evening clothes be worn by the guests? How long a time should the reception last? Who pays for the gifts to the ushers and bridesmaids?

Answer: Guests should wear evening clothes. Just as long as you wish. The groom pays for the ushers and best man's gifts; the bride for those given to the maid-of-honor and the bridesmaids.

Congressman Casey Is Able Critic
Pans Dies Committee Intelligently
Feels Un-Americanism Exaggerated

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Representative Martin Dies' congressional committee on investigation of un-American activities in the United States has had one really intelligent critic on Capitol Hill in the person of Representative Joseph E. Casey of Massachusetts.

Representative Casey has not overly liked the methods of the Dies quizzing. Congressional investigating committee, as I've had occasion to remark recently, are apt to be, if not unfair, at least unjudicial. Such a committee generally has a particular case that it wants to make out, and it doesn't greatly care how it does it. Most of the Dies committee's members believe that un-American activities do exist in our midst. The complaint is that its tendency has been to "smear" folks who, possibly, don't deserve to be "smeared."

For instance, there are organizations, perhaps founded with excellent motives (such as "peace and democracy") into which un-American elements (Communistic, Nazi-istic or Fascistic) have infiltered. The Dies committee's system has been to denounce these organizations as completely Communistic, Nazi-istic or Fascistic, and to publish lists of their total memberships, including many who, in all likelihood, aren't in the least in sympathy with such doctrines.

Innocent Members

Illustratively, it's hard to blame a member, in good faith, of a society in favor of "peace and democracy" for belongng to it, maybe not even suspecting that its name camouflaged anything.

Yet the Dies committee, scaring up these lists, had broadcast them wholesale.

Representative Casey not only thinks that this was unjust; he holds that it exaggerates the amount of un-Americanism in America.

All right. The Dies committee investigated for a year. Then it asked Congress to extend its lease of life for another year. Representative Casey acquiesced. But he said this:

Little Criticism

"I am somewhat alarmed at the lack of criticism of the Dies committee. We ought to be able to subject the activities of this committee to the searchlight of investigation, to find out if what it is doing is right, just and democratic."

The nub of it is that Representative Casey is afraid that the committee itself is un-American.

Un-American investigating un-Americanism!

Nevertheless, Representative Casey voted for a continuation of the Dies committee. He continues to think that there's un-Americanism to be investigated. Only he wants it to be Americanly investigated.

Remember—he was for the Dies committee's continuation. But he wasn't for the committee's methods.

Anti-Dies Groups' Mistake

The anti-Dies groups' capital mistake was in trying to prove that Representative Dies himself was a Fascist.

They produced documentary evidence which purported to show Dies was allied with William Dudley Pelley's American Silver Shirts (Fascist outfit). It was documentary evidence which turned out, according to their own dope, to be forged.

That kind of knock is a boost, it goes almost without saying.

Some of the radicals were honest enough. They bought testimony that they supposed to be legitimate.

They simply were suckers.

They BOTH are suckers.

Ditto conservatives and radicals!

It's the same way in both congressional chambers.

They Stand In The Way

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.

EXACTLY what game Mr. Roosevelt is playing and what ultimately he will do in this third-term business, which he has encouarged from the start—and continues to encourage—is not easy to see. Perhaps, he himself does not quite know.

NEVERTHELESS, as the picture developes, the inner circle engineers speed up the Roosevelt "drive" and the jobholders and politicians, with local situations in mind, call for another nomination, the conviction grows among the small minority of experienced men, here capable of a calm and detached view, that the one thing Mr. Roosevelt will not do is run again. It is true his silence has reached a point now where it can only be construed as consent. It is true that he could stop with a word not only the proposed submission of his name in the Wisconsin and Illinois primaries but the whole pumped-up movement.

IT is true, too, that not only his Administration heads but a good many strongly anti-Roosevelt Democratic Senators believe he is a real candidate and will be named. The weight of political opinion is certainly on that side. Those who dissent are few in number but firm in their belief. Perhaps the majority is right, but there are a good many reasons for not thinking so. There is no need to repeat all of them here, but at the moment two conspicuously protrude. One of these is named Garner; the other is named Farley.

THOUGH both have now avowed their Presidential candidacy, there are sound grounds for believing that neither has any great expectation of being nominated. Primarily, Mr. Garner's entrance in Wisconsin and Illionis and Mr. Farley's in Massachusetts is intended as a protest against the third term efforts of the palace politicians, whose ac-

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AND WHY NOT?

A Cremona violin, or a Stradivarius violin, has been for several generations considered the last word in a violin, and no great performer on that instrument is happy unless he has an Italian violin.

With the advent of music in the public schools of the United States, where every high school and even many junor high schools boast of orchestras similar to the Junior Philharmonic in Los Angeles, with which Heifetz played in the movie, "They Shall Have Music," there has come a demand for orchestra instruments of all kinds, including principally the violin and cello.

Now comes Heifetz himself and says: "There is a great opportunity in these United States for someone to make a real violin." It is a timely suggestion when so many citizens of the Republic are alleged to be unemployed. To be sure the making of violins would not employ a great many men, but it would employ some.

Heifetz also says that there has been entirely too much kow-towing to the Italian instrument; that a very excellent—a very fine instrument, in fact, could be made here in America. Such an instrument would require certain woods very well seasoned, for it is the wood and the seasoning of that wood in the Stradivarius that induces the great music from the bow of a Heifetz or a Kreisler. Heifetz very earnestly urges American music instrument makers to give their thought and workmanship to the making of a great violin, for the boys and girls in these high school orchestras are going to be the musicians of tomorrow.

Speaking of the violin and of Kreisler recalls a story I recently heard concerning Kreisler. It happened in Chicago on Michigan avenue. There was some kind of a bet made regarding the musical talent of the average American. Kreisler's bet was that he could dress himself as a poor beggar, play his Stradivarius on a Michigan avenue corner and no one would recognize either him or his music. He did this thing. He was dressed as a poor beggar, sitting on a stool on the avenue with his tin cup, playing only as he could play. But he lost his bet. No one recognized him, but the police had to clear the avenue and ask the "poor beggar" to leave. American audiences have been educated to good music and in that crowd were heard many remarks and breathless whispers: "Who is he? Who is it that is making that violin talk as he is making it talk?" Naturally, it never occured to any of them that it was one of the greatest violinists of the world sitting there in a beggar's attire.

The suggestion of the making of American violins is also a suggestion of what intelligent men of imagination might accomplish if Washington would only let them alone.

The Great Game Of Politics

tivities in his behalf Mr. Roosevelt approves by permitting them if not by active cooperation. The Garner-Farley candidacies serve notice, first that there is no united party call for Mr. Roosevelt; second, that there is no possibility of a bona fide draft; third, that the only way in which he can get the nomination is through a phony draft, in which he personally will connive to force himself on a reluctant convention through the weight of the jobholder machine and a worked up "demand."

WITH personal friendliness toward Mr. Roosevelt, both Mr. Garner and Mr. Farley have made no secret of their opposition to his renomination and their belief in the preservation of the anti-third term tradition established by Washington and held inviolate for 150 years. There is neither persoanl animosity nor political ambition back of their attitude. They happen—each of them—to have a pretty strong conviction that three terms as President are too much for any man, and that the effort on the part of Mr. Roosevelt to secure one will react disastrously upon him, upon the country and upon the Democratic party. They have not withheld this view from the President himself, and for months have voiced it openly to their friends. Their present candidates can be construed in no other way than a practical expression of this feeling.

IT IS interesting that the ardent third-termers among the New Dealers give Mr. Garner credit for his conviction; but are not willing to accord Mr. Farley credit for his. Mr. Garner they say, is not only against the third term, but against the New Deal. At heart he is a conservative, and while he knows he cannot be nominated his candidacy, is consistent with his beliefs and with the fact that he is the leading—or anyhow, the most courageous—Democrat of his party faction.

BUT about Mr. Farley they talk differently. Mr. Farley, they say can—and will be—brought in line when it is necessary to bring him. He has not possessed the President's confidence since he declined to cooperate in the great 1938 "purge" engineered by the brilliant Mr. Corcoran. But, that does not mean that he can—or will—break with the President. He hasn't the nerve to stand up when "The Boss" puts on the pressure. As for cutting loose altogether—that's a joke. He made his Massachusetts move known to Mr. Roosevelt in advance and was told by him to go ahead, knowing well that the delegates may be Farley's on the surface, but they will be Roosevelt's if and when wanted. Actually, Mr. Farley, is Mr. Roosevelt's man, and always will be—so what's the use of taking his attitude seriously.

THAT is the line. It is as stupid as it is wrong. It makes Mr. Farley out not only a subservient poor-spirited creature, but insincere. "The reverse of those things is true. There is no man in the Administration with more fundamental character and courage. Loyal as he has been for ten years to Mr. Roosevelt that loyalty has not made him submerge his own judgment or shed his convictions—as witness his refusal to join the "purge."

THAT he is now playing a double game—pretending to be against the Roosevelt nomination, but actually working to bring about a jittery convention which will find itself unable to nominate anyone else is the stuff the Corcoran group is spreading. But that isn't the way Mr. Farley plays ball. Except for Mr. Hull, he is the outstanding member of the Cabinet, with more friends in the Democratic party than any other. With Mr. Garner, he stands today so clearly in the way that the third-term venture seems far too great a risk for any balanced man to take.

Splendid Cough Remedy Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to colds, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll never be without it in your home, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The 1939 session appropriated $8,500,000 from the motor fund to be returned to the second class township of the commonwealth during 1940 and 1941. The state highway department made the allocation of the fund to the townships on a mileage basis. Requisitions providing for the payment of the money were prepared by the highway department and have been sent to the fiscal departments where the checks are being written.

HAS DIPHTHERIA

John G. Bender, 312 Fern street, has diphtheria, according to a city health report.

CITY AND COUNTY BEGIN RETURN TO NEAR NORMALCY

drifted badly, and some will not be opened it is feared until warmer weather thaws them out.

Some Schools Closed

All county schools which have to transport their pupils in buses are closed and will not attempt to open until Monday, County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling stated today. It was found impossible for the buses to get through the drifted side roads. These include East Brook, Union Township, Plaingrove, and other of the larger district schools.

Street department employes have been working almost continuously since the snow started to fall to keep streets open, and are now hauling away snow from the streets.

The temperature began falling as soon as the snowstorm ended, and during the night dropped down to zero, it was reported at the U. S. Weather Observing station.

The fall in temperature had a tendency to harden the snow and folks who got off the highway had considerable difficulty digging their way out.

Clear City Streets

Several score workers and more than a dozen trucks last night and today were kept busy removing snow from the curbs and hauling it to the Neshannock creek and as a result motor transportation today had practically returned to normal excepting in some of the outlying streets.

Operations were carried on under the supervision of Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Streets Director William H. Dunlap. The former stayed on the job until 1 a. m. today. Dunlap with Streets Superintendent Jack Bretell worked through the night.

Men from public assistance rolls were called upon today to augment the regular employes of the street department. Several trucks were rented to augment those of the streets and garbage department.

During city council meeting in the city building today warm praise was paid the employes for their efforts to free thoroughfares from the grip of snow.

U. S. Oil Tanker Disabled Near Eastern Coast

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—The cutter Ponchartrain has reached the side of the disabled 3,262 ton oil tanker, Aztec, 50 miles southeast of Sandy Hook, N. J. and is standing by. The Aztec will be towed to the nearest port, guard headquarters announced today.

The cutter radioed coast guard headquarters that the Aztec reached the helpless vessel at 5:44 a. m., and found a heavy gale blowing and rough seas running.

The captain of the Aztec reported earlier his rudder was loose and said if the rudder post tore loose, the sea would flood into the engine room.

Coast guard officials said they were sure the disabled ship was an American craft, inasmuch as it used a U. S. radio call. They said vessels of the Aztec's size usually carried a crew of from 25 to 30 men.

Street-car traffic was badly crippled and classes in many schools were suspended. Similar conditions prevailed in Scranton, Pa. Philadelphia had six inches of snowfall and the snow drifted high in the Pocono mountains.

For New York, the snows brought hope that when they melt they will help alleviate the water shortage threatening the city.

Scores of pedestrians were thrown to the icy sidewalks by the heavy winds in New York which ranged from 20 miles an hour in the street to 100 miles atop the Empire State building. More than 50 persons suffered fractured limbs and lesser injuries in falls.

Army Clears N. Y. Streets

A force of 25,4000 emergency workers in addition to 12,500 men and more than 1,000 pieces of equipment including snow plows, flushers, sanders and snow brooms were mobilized in New York to clear the city streets.

The blizzard struck New England late last night, paralyzing traffic by rail and highway. Virtually all scheduled sailings from Boston were canceled after a city-owned steamer was blown adrift in the harbor.

The seacoast was lashed from the Virginia capes to Maine. A heavy sea rolled off the north and central Jersey coast where the blizzard began veering to the sea. The oil tanker Aztec was caught in the teeth of the gale which tore away its steering gear off Sandy Hook.

Southern tier counties in New York reported snow falls ranging in depth to 36 inches in some places with the general depth between 18 and 24 inches.

The storm appeared to have originated in Tennessee and gathered great velocity as it blew over Virginia and West Virginia enroute to Pennsylvania and New York.

SENATE FARM BLOC SEEKING MORE FARM AID

culture bank in each of the 48 states. He also said he will propose legislation for the three-year parity payment guarantee.

Senator Russell (D) Georgia, chairman of an appropriations subcommittee that will consider the $722,001,084 agriculture supply bill for 1941, announced after a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that he is prepared to reinstate approximately $67,000,000 cut from the bill by the house.

Asserting that commercial banks are afraid to make loans to farmers, and that the Farm Security Administration "does not go far enough," Smith said establishment of the 48 agriculture banks would be a long step toward agriculture stability.

"After 150 years of comparative serfdom for agriculture, the banks would do much to relieve the whole situation," Smith said. "The banks would make long-term loans at low interest rates. They would be completely divorced from commercial loan activity, and would be devoted only to agriculture interests."

Four Drown As Auto Plunges Through Ice

Tragedy Occurs Near Cedar Point And Sandusky, O., Late Wednesday

SANDUSKY, O., Feb. 15.—An automobile plunged through the "ice bridge" between Lake Erie islands northwest of here Wednesday carrying a physician, his wife and their two small children to death in 30 feet of water.

The late afternoon tragedy occurred near Colby's Point, three-fourths of a mile off Mildle Bass Island.

The bodies of the physician, Dr. George J. Edam, 33, of Put-in-Bay, and his wife, Loretta, 29, were recovered.

Tells Of Auto's Plunge

Darkness ended a search for those of the children, Barbara, two, and George, Jr, three.

"It (the automobile) suddenly plunged through the ice." said Postmistress Mildred McCann of Middle Bass, who witnessed the tragedy from the shore.

"It never even hesitated in its downward course.

She reported that Dr. Edam had been making the rounds of his patients on the island and, while returning home, apparently drove from the regular path taken by motorists over the lake ice.

Struck Hole In Ice, Belief

Middle Bass is five miles north of the mainland and about a mile and a half from Put-in-Bay. The latter is on South Bass Island, four miles off shore.

Mrs. McCann indicated that she believed Dr. Edam struck a hole in the ice, a belief shared by Capt. Lee Miller, Put-in-Bay harbor master, who said efforts to drag the car from the 30-foot water were unavailing.

The children, he said, apparently were confined within it.

The harbor master said attempts would be made early tomorrow to raise the car.

High Standards For Stokowski's Youth Orchestra

Group Will Be Equal Of Any Symphony Orchestra In United States

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15—The All-American Youth orchestra of 109 persons being recruited through the National Youth Administration's local offices for Leopold Stokowski's Latin-American trip next summer, will be a paid professional, union organization, according to information received by the NYA from Mr. Stokowski, and proper arrangements will be made for those who are not members of the union.

Mr. Stokowski plans to continue the orchestra after its planned two or three months' "good will" tour, replenishing it yearly with new youthful talent. Both the musical and technical standards of this orchestra will be equal to that of the Philadelphia Symphony. No player will be accepted, says Mr. Stokowski, who would not be accepted for the Philadelphia orchestra if there were a vacancy in it.

Local NYA offices are receiving applications from young people, NYA or non-NYA, about 15 to 25 years of age.

Urge Change In Farm Show Date

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Directors of the Pennsylvania Guernsey Breeders' association advocated that the 25th annual state farm show be held in Harrisburg in November instead of the scheduled meeting in January, 1941.

A spokesman for the directors pointed out that during November the weather was more favorable for both attendance and the shipping of livestock.

At the same time, the directors vigorously opposed vaccination of cattle for Bangs disease maintaining that innoculations were in the experimental stage and the results were not conclusive.

Federal Income Tax In Nutshell

DEDUCTIONS FOR BUSINESS EXPENSES

Deductions for business expenses form a large item in the return of many taxpayers and must have certain qualities to be allowed. Such deduction must be for an expenditure in connection with the maintenance and operation of the taxpayer's business or business properties; it must be an ordinary expense and it must be a necessary expense. In insisting upon the latter qualifications, the Bureau of Internal Revenue is upheld by the Board of Tax Appeals and the courts. Ordinary and necessary expenses are only those which are usual and essential in the case of similar taxpayers, "and do not include extraordinary and nonessential expenses."

Typical business expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks and other employees, rent, light, heat, water, stationery, stamps, telephone, property insurance, and delivery expenses.

The expenses of a manufacturing business include labor, supplies, repairs, light and heat, power, selling cost, administration, and other similar charges.

The farmer may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the production, harvesting, and marketing of crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than his dwelling), and small tools used up in the course of a year or two. A taxpayer conducting more than one business may claim the business deductions of each.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CHICKEN POX

No discussion of common infectious diseases in children would be complete without a few words about chicken pox, which is just about the most infectious of them all. Fortunately for the children, for the parents and for we doctors, too, it is also the least harmful.

In its more common form, it is just a rash that occurs chiefly on the arms and legs of the child. It starts as a tiny crop of blisters and gradually turns into thick, crusted sores. Sometimes the trouble hangs on and doesn't clear up easily. The patient remains a source of infection to others for several weeks as crop after crop of blisters appear. Occasionally it reaches a serious stage. Sometimes a bad case of chicken pox is mistaken for smallpox. I myself would prefer a mild case of smallpox to a bad chicken pox any day. The two are likely to be confused by an inexperienced diagnostician.

Chicken pox is a disease that goes through a school like lightning, it is so contagious.

It has caused me some embarrassment with the public health nurses in my part of the country. The Red Cross maintains stations at various points and their nurses make regular rounds, giving prenatal care to mothers, examining school children and generally attending the sick. Medical men are scarce in some parts of the sparsely settled region and the area to be covered is so great that the nurses have to do some pinch hitting for me and the other doctors.

In diagnosing and treating cases when a doctor isn't available the nurses make some mistakes. Several times I have been summoned by a nurse to attend a case of smallpox and I have found that it was really chicken pox.

Each time the error has placed me in an embarrassing position. I'm not in favor of deceiving a patient or his family about his sickness. Yet in these cases if I declared the nurses's diagnosis wrong, I ran the risk of discrediting her with the family and diminishing the community's faith in her work, to which some of the rough people are hostile by nature anyway. So I usually felt called upon to confirm her diagnosis to the family, and to disagree with her about it privately.

Let me say in passing that these Red Cross nurses do truly indispensible and heroic work in the north woods and other sparsely settled parts of the country. A woman who leaves the comparative comfort of a hospital or private nursing in a city to come out here voluntarily and work under the most primitive conditions is naturally in love with her work and the type who is a credit to the profession. They carry on with all the ardor of Florence Nightingales. My only complaint with them is that too many of them get married and leave the service.

Actually chicken pox is in no way related to smallpox, one does not immunize against the other. Chicken pox nearly always attacks children, and adult cases are rare. Smallpox attacks all ages. Though smallpox is rare these days, the services of a doctor are always desirable in cases of chicken pox, in order that the parents may determine positively that the child's disease is not a form of smallpox.

Reds Seek To Smash Finnish Line By February 23

Anniversary Of Army Founding

Report Moscow Orders Smashing Of Mannerheim Line At All Cost

FINLAND NEEDS MORE OUTSIDE AID

By JOSEPH H. BAIRD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—A determined effort by Russia to smash the Mannerheim line and advance into Finland by February 23, the twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the Red Army, has been ordered by Moscow, diplomatic quarters understood to-day.

This attempt to dramatize victory and erase the blot on the Soviet union's military banner caused by early Red Army failures is responsible for the present cloudburst of shot and shell now being rained upon the defending Finns.

Numerical Weakness

Military experts here have reluctantly concluded that barring a miracle, the hard-pressed Finns must soon yield to superior force. Human bravery, they pointed out, can not forever make up for numerical weakness, and the Russians outnumber the Finns by more than 50 to one.

According to the best information Finland has received more than one hundred war planes, and a considerable quantity of guns and material from Norway, Sweden, Great Britain and France, but less than 20,000 men, or only a few more than one Russian division.

The Soviets, according to reliable figures, have thrown about 40 divisions against Finland, most of them along the Mannerheim line. A Russian war strength division consists of about 15,000 men; so the Red horde boating against the little country's borders now numbers around 600,000 men, as compared to Finland's estimated 400,000 defenders.

New Members Day On Next Sunday

Loyalty Campaign For Sunday Schools Is Gathering Momentum Each Week

"New Members" Sunday is the designation for the third Sunday of the "Loyalty" Increase campaign, and the purpose is to have as many as possible of those not now attending, to be present next Sunday, February 18th.

The Sunday schools in New Castle and over the county realize especially, that the poster that used to be displayed at State Sunday School conventions, is true. This poster would have a red wheelbarrow in the center and over the top of it was this question: "Why is a Sunday school like a wheelbarrow?" The answer underneath it was, "Because it takes push to make it go!" The Sunday schools that are well organized and have "push" are the ones that make progress in the matter of attendance. It is taken for granted, of course, that all Sunday schools have the evangelistic message.

The pastors of most of the participating Sunday schools are making plans to stress the first goal of the campaign which is, "An increase in evangelism". The second goal is an increase in Sunday school attendance, and this is the phase that is receiving most publicity and is being regularly reported in the local newspaper. The third goal is an increase in church attendance and in New Castle the Ministerial association has been promoting such a campaign with good results.

The fourth goal of the campaign that ends with Easter Sunday March 24th, is an increase in Bible study. One of the best ways to promote this goal, is to encourage daily and systematic reading of the Bible.

Dutch Demand Compensation For Torpedoed Ship

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Feb. 15.—Demanding compensation, the Dutch government today sent an energetic protest to Berlin against the torpedoing of the Dutch steamer Burgerdijk last Saturday.

Sinking of the 6553-ton Burgerdijk off the southeast coast of England as she was returning from New York gave rise to one of the most important questions of the war involving neutrals.

Soon after the incident Germany announced that any neutral vessel planning to touch at a British control port would be liable to attack by Germany.

ROOSEVELT STARTS ON FISHING TRIP; POLITICIANS MYSTIFIED

emphasis was laid upon it because of Mr. Roosevelt's obvious desire to keep his itinerary a complete secret.

The president's name has been entered in four Democratic primaries for a third term—Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska and New Hampshire. Blunt questions about the Illinois and Wisconsin primaries in particular at his last Washington press conference elicited only the answer that the potential candidate knew nothing about it. A few days earlier at Hyde Park the president served notice once and for all that any announcement on the third term would come at a time of his own choosing, not that of the press.

Mr. Roosevelt intimated he would be gone on the current cruise for about ten days. That would bring him back towards Washington by February 24, last day when he can withdraw his name from the Illinois primary—where it was entered by the Kelly-Nash team of Cook county.

and moved its $20,000 stock to Chicora in neighboring Butler county.

Managers of stores at East Brady, Kittanning, Ford City and West Newton were ordered to be ready for "evacuation" on short notice for the same reason.

Only the business section of the Armstrong county town, having a population of about 900, was affected by the rising river water, according to Dr. Shaw.

When the Allegheny, river broke out of its banks at Parker's Landing it brought the state its first flood of the year and grave misgivings of increasing troubles in the area.

S.S.S. TONIC must be good

So many people take it —to increase appetite —to boost energy

COUNTLESS thousands of men and women can testify to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought them.

The facts are simple because of all conditions effecting the human body a low blood count is most deceptive. If you feel rundown . . . lack a keen appetite . . . have lost weight . . . don't give up until you restore those precious red-blood-cells back to normal.

S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need to get you on the right road to health and happiness again.

In S.S.S. Tonic you go after the trouble in two ways . . . first you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion—thus making better use of the food you eat—secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you a boost in energy.

Try S.S.S. which any drug store can supply and no ethical dealer will suggest a substitute. The big 20 oz. size is a two week's treatment and represents a saving in the purchase price. ©S.S.S. Co.

FELT BACK WOULD BREAK TILL PENNA. RESIDENT TOOK VENDOL

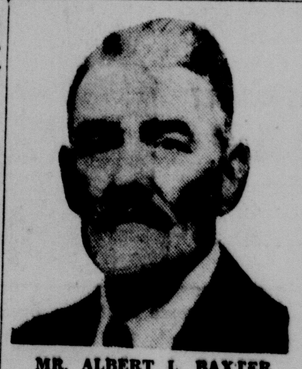

Says he never took anything that gave such grand relief. Advises everyone to try this favorite medicine.

"Vendol proved to be exactly what I needed and gave the grandest relief I have enjoyed in a long time," declares Mr. Albert L. Baxter, who lives at 9 E. Cherry St., New Castle, Penna.

"I had such aching pains across my back that sometimes felt like it would break. The pains would run down my legs and I often had to rub them before I could get off to sleep.

"I was constipated nearly every day and I took a lot of medicine for this trouble, but I like Vendol better than any I tried. It acted nice and easy, and I noticed after Vendol relieved my constipation that the pains in my back and legs grew less painful; and since taking several bottles I am no longer troubled with backache.

"I feel so much better since taking Vendol that I am glad to say a good word for it every chance I get."

Vendol has brought needed relief to many persons who had suffered from pains in the back, arms, muscles, and joints where these troubles were due to constipation or need of a mild diuretic action on the kidneys. It is pleasant to take and acts promptly.

Most all druggists sell Vendol, and it is highly recommended here by Eckerd's of New Castle, 118 E. Washington St.

Troopers Restore Maryland Peace

Blizzard Forces Postponement Of Search For Murder Suspect

(International News Service)

SNOW HILL, Md., Feb. 15—Fifty three state troopers, materially aided by a blizzard, restored peace to the Eastern Shore today as the storm forced postponement of the search for a suspected negro murderer and drove violence-minded citizens to their firesides.

Two other negroes, suspected of being accomplices of the fugitive in the killing Sunday night of Harvey Pilchard 61 year old Stockton farmer, and the wounding of his wife, Annie, 57 were in jail "across the bay" at Bel Air.

Two negro women, Martha Blake, 31, and her daughter, 14 whom an angry mob of 1,000 dragged from the Worcester county jail Tuesday night in an effort to learn the whereabouts of the suspected killers also were in the Bel Air jail, after their rescue from the mob, which held them for several hours.

Posses believed to have the fugitive negro trapped in dismal Dunn swamp near Snow Hill were forced to abandon their search by the fury of the storm.

Princeton Students Offer Peace Plea

Would Have Premier Mussolini And Roosevelt Lead In Peace Effort

(International News Service)

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 15.—President Roosevelt and Premier Mussolini of Italy were importuned to bring peace to the world in a St. Valentine's day peace movement being organized today by five Princeton students.

Premier Mussolini was asked to lead the forces for peace abroad in a cablegram in which the Princeton students told him he was "the only man capable of saving Europe" by acting as mediator between the warring nations.

A similar telegram to President Roosevelt pointed out that the youth of Europe was not in a position now to launch a peace movement and that this task should be undertaken by American students.

Leaders of the Princeton peace movement were John C. Gorman, Bronxville, N. Y.; Philip Conway, Green Village, N. J.; William Rieber, New York, and Robert C. Fox, Jr., Laporte, Ind.

WAGON SPRINGS THING OF PAST

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15. — The automobile has so far outstripped the wagon that a spring manufacturer in Harrisburg reports that his firm hasn't made a wagon spring since 1935. Instead, the company manufactures springs for automobiles, trucks, baby carriages, buses, trailers, racing cars, farm machinery and the like.

Sports World Ramblings

Greyhounds highly rated—Lawrence County's sole contribution to the coming WPIAL tournament ranks with the slickest units in the district. Section 20 will be represented by a combination which has already been selected as one of the favorites to romp off the hardwood with the Class B. toga. A year older and a year wiser, New Wilmington's aggregation will trot onto the court imbued with priceless experience gleaned during the 1938-39 tourney. The miniature Titans were as well known as the bottom of the Atlantic; somewhat gun-shy, shaky and lost at times. That was a year ago. . . .

Despite their shortcomings, which could be expected of any newcomer, New Wilmington marched on to victories over Apollo, West Newton, East Pittsburgh and then to the final round. As their victory list mounted, so did their popularity. That 1938-39 quintet won the plaudits of fandom. In losing to Monaca, 33-30, New Wilmington did something to that gallery. Because of that cage "oomph" and sportsmanship which won the acclaim of all, the Greyhounds' encore is a welcome one. Undefeated in 17 clashes, it's easy to see why the local entry has been given a rail position. . . .

Standard bearers of other sections are mapping out schemes to suspend Paul Minner's scoring act. In view of the fact that the skyscraping flipper has sent the sphere through the draperies for 243 points, district foes will spend considerable time designing an appropriate trap to curb Minner's pet practice of sinking field goals. The lanky one is only part of a smooth machine. Pearson, N. Borowicz, Sharp and Wilson form the strong chain. Each link is important. . . .

New Wilmington's success is due mainly to cooperation. Johnny Eagleson's passers have been taught the lesson of coherence and practice it on the floor during a game. This, on top of a fighting spirit that won't yield, sportsmanship and stamina exemplify a few of the cage virtues which makeup the team. Shortly after losing a heart breaking last minute decision to Monaca, New Wilmington's athletes vowed that they would win the title this year. They have climbed one of the steps. Section 20 rivals and Lawrence county fans join hands in wishing the college towners the best of luck. . . .

Tampa Chosen As Site For Finnish Relief Ball Game

(International News Service)

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 15.—Tampa today had been selected as site for the All-Star baseball game between National and American teams for the benefit of the Finnish relief fund, and March 17 was selected as date for the contest, which is expected to be a duplicate of the annual mid-season all-star classic of the two leagues.

Tampa was chosen because of the greater seating capacity of its ball park, which normally will seat approximately 9,000 persons, including about 1,000 box seats. Officials, however, stated that by placing temporary seats along foul lines, the seating capacity can be raised to possibly 20,000.

Miami and St. Petersburg had sought the game.

Commissioner K. M. Landis is expected to be on hand for the contest, and former president Herbert Hoover, chairman of the relief committee, may toss the first ball in the game.

More Drivers Are Losing Licenses

Enforcement Of Speed Limit Is Held Cause For Increase In suspensions

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15. — Enforcement of the 50-mile-an-hour speed law in Pennsylvania was cited by the Keystone Automobile club as the principal reason for the 20 per cent increase in the number of temporary license suspensions during the 1937-39 period.

At that time, 43,928 motorists were penalized for various infractions, while the preceding seven years—1929 to 1936 inclusive—produced 37,039 violators.

Some 11,487 drivers were penalized for speeding in 1938 and '39, as compared with 33 for the same cause from 1929 to 1937.

Revive Lumbering In Cameron County

Six Thousand Acre Tract Is Being Harvested By Grandson Of Pioneer

(International News Service)

EMPORIUM, Pa., Feb. 15.—Lumbering operations have been revived in the rich upper valley section of Cameron County after a quarter century.

Truck after truck of hardwood and other grades are rolling out of the 6,000-acre woodland owned by H. Whitely Howard. Sufficient lumber can be found in the neighborhood of the main stream of Driftwood Creek to keep two mills going uninterruptedly for 10 to 12 years, it was estimated.

Howard, who started in where his grandfather, C. B. Howard, left off in 1913, said that the site of his logging enterprise contains more than 25,000,000 board feet of lumber.

News Briefs From City Hall

City Traffic Commissioner Thomas Jones today inspected several buildings in various sections of the city and when he found icicles which he believed might cause injury to pedestrians ordered the icicles removed. Last night Patrolmen Ray Showalter and James Logan reported several hazards due to snow and icicles on buildings.

Police here have been requested to be on the alert for DeWitt C. Smith, University of Maryland student, who has been missing since last month. He is 19.

Police last night gave shelter in the city bunkroom to wayfarers. They left the lodging room at 7 a. m. for various destinations.

SAYS STUDENTS ARE MORE ABSENT-MINDED

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 15.—The college student is absent-minded, not the college professor, claims George L. Donovan, assistant manager of the student union at the Pennsylvania State College.

Of $1,575 worth of lost articles turned over to the union's lost and found service, not one of the items belonged to a faculty member, said Donovan.

The report covered a four months' period, during which students mislaid a total of 176 books, 36 fountain pens, 9 topcoats, 10 pairs of glasses, 43 notebooks, 13 rings, 27 pocketbooks, 19 pairs of gloves, and numerous other articles.

Section 20 Champs Face Union Friday

Wampum Five Goes To East Brook; Mt. Jackson Team Host To Bessemer

New Wilmington High's sleek basketball coterie makes its initial appearance as 1939-40 champions of Section 20 on Friday night, combatting Union High's combination in the college town.

The two time winners of the toga take the floor with one of the most imposing streaks in the district—17 straight victories. The miniature Titans have their eyes focused on an unbeaten season.

Union Township seems well established in the second place slot. A victory for the Union hoopsters will enhance their season record immensely. A capacity crowd is expected to watch the champs in action against the sturdy Scotland Lane flippers.

Wampum's surprisingly strong aggregation ends its season at East Brook. The Hennon five moved into third place by whaling Shenango Township. Mt. Jackson plays the role of host, battling Bessemer.

The league winds up another successful season on Tuesday evening.

Ax to Grind?

Philly slugger, Morrie Arnovich, limbers up for spring training session by swinging it at his Superior, Wis., home. Judging from that wood pile, it looks like Morrie will be grinding that ax all summer.

MURRAY-RETARDO TILT LOOKS GOOD

Murray Would Like To Beat Ellwood City Boxer Monday Night

Although there are two Diamond belt champions and one former Diamond crown-holder on Monday night's fistic bill the fight which may capture the fancy of the fans is that scheduled between Nick Retardo and Billy Murray.

Retardo will have heighth and reach to his advantage. He is also as good a puncher as Murray. It is doubtful if he ranks in speed with Murray who also owns more cleverness than Retardo.

The last time Murray appeared here he dished out a shellacking to Frankie Moran. He had Moran on the floor. Murray would like to duplicate this feat when he fights Retardo.

Arkett Has Rugged Foe

Chuck Arkett will have to have his hitting aim if he hopes to beat Pete Spotti, the 147 pound champion. Arkett is known as an in-and-outer. However, when he is "right" he is difficult to beat.

Some fans believe that Jack Grimes, middleweight champion will even the score with Sully Tonti for the licking Tonti handed him some months ago.

The Sammy Secrete-Mike Wukas fight ought to be one of the best seen here in some time. The Yarosz boys, Tom and Joey, will box Sonny Horne, Niles and Jimmie Tabor, Niles, respectively.

Milio Donnelli of Niles and Ray Lacasano of Ellwood City will open the eight bout Parade of Champions and near champions in The Arena.

THE GUMPS—MAMMA TURNS ON THE PERSONALITY

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

When you've come to the end of a nervewracking day,
And your soul is embittered with sorrow,
Do not creep off alone, or to wailing give away—
Remember, my friend, there's tomorrow.

When you back's to the wall, and your money's all gone,
And there isn't a cent you can borrow,
Do not think it is seemly to cringe, or to fawn—
Remember, my friend, there's tomorrow.

When the Goddess of Chance has called off her care,
As you find to your infinite sorrow,
Do not play like a fool, or give up in despair—
Remember, my friend, there's tomorrow.

When your enemies bury you deep with abuse,
And your friends pass you by in your sorrow,
If you buck up, and fight, they will all cry for a truce—
Remember, my friend, there's tomorrow.

STOCKS

Stock Market Prices Are Firm

Several Stocks Show Gains In Transactions At Morning Session

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The stock market firmed today after its modest reaction in the preceding session.

Certain-Teed products preferred added 3 points at one time to yesterday's jump of 3⅞, and reached a new 1939-40 high. The common, up a half-point to above 8, also was at a new top.

Loft, at a new all-time peak for the second day in a row, rayon shares, and some of the low-priced auto accesories also were prominent. Hayes and Murray Corp., the latter up nearly a point, were the most active accessory shares. Celanese and Industrial Rayon each gained about a point in heavy dealings.

Stocks were generally higher at the opening, despite a few laggards. Buying picked up later in the first hour, and the market gradually moved forward with some leaders advancing a point or more.

Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric and American Smelting were among those to gain about a point. Montgomery Ward, Case, United Aircraft, Chrysler and Anaconda did nearly as well. Lesser gains were shown by U. S. Steel, General Motors, American Telephone and General Electric.

Two Teams Forfeit In Shelby League

Cold Finish And Office Win In Exhibition Games From Mechanical, Inspection

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—Because neither the Inspection nor the Mechanical teams for the Shelby league could muster enough players for the scheduled games last night, they forfeited to the Office and Cold Finish; however, exhibition games were played with the Office winning 64 to 55 in an over-time game from the Mechanical and the Cold Finish trailing the Inspection 49 to 40.

To play, the Mechanicals borrowed Bianco from the Cold Draw. Both teams battled nip and tuck with the Mechanical leading 16 to 15 in the opening canto and then trailing 30 to 28 at halftime and 43 to 41 at the end of the third period. Zapadka's field goal gave the Office a 53-52 lead but with 10 seconds remaining Walter Robuck was fouled and sank the charity toss to force the game into an extra session in which the Office ran wild.

Tony Ottaviani, Office guard, was top scorer with 10 buckets and a free toss for 21 points. Fusco had 16 points and Walter Robuck led the losers with 17 markers.

After the game was forfeited to the undefeated league leading Cold Finish five, they played an exhibition match with the Inspection, who borrowed Prestopine from the Mechanicals and who won by a 49 to 40 count. Cole with 19 points led the scoring parade.

Saturday night the Hot Finish meets the Cold Draw and the Cold Finish plays the Mechanical.

Beginning with the second round next Wednesday, the Inspection and Hot Finish will combine teams and the Mechanicals will be given several players in an effort to strengthen weaker teams in the league and to avoid forfeit games. On the nights that the Inspection is scheduled to play, Business Manager Charles Maietta will arrange for games for the All Stars against strong independent teams.

The All Stars will play the powerful Kibitzer club of East Palestine at the Shelby auditorium on Monday night at 8:30 to be preceded by a preliminary match at 7:30.

'Mother Schmidt' Now Convalescing From Kitchen Fall

Once again Mrs. Barbara Schmidt of 12 West Lutton street, who at the age of 100 is the oldest living pensioner of all the United States Steel Corp. subsidiaries, expects to be "up and about sooner or later" after several weeks confinement because of a shoulder fracture suffered recently in a fall in her kitchen.

It was learned today that Mrs. Schmidt is convalescing and hopes to be back at running her household before long.

"Mother Schmidt"—that's what her neighbors and friends call her—was born in Germany in 1840 and came to America as a bride in 1866. Her husband worked at Carnegie's old Rosena furnace and when he died in 1871 Mrs. Schmidt took up janitress duties. She was retired in 1922.

PHONE 'LOAD' IN STORM WAS HEAVY, BELL COUNT SHOWS

Almost 77,000 "local" telephone calls and nearly 1,000 "toll" calls—a service load considerably heavier than a normal day brings—were handled by city's Bell Telephone Company exchange during Wednesday's blizzard, District Manager Virdyn R. Caldwell, reported today.

There were exactly 76,762 "locals" as compared with a normal of 57,000. There were 943 "tolls" as compared with a normal of 625

Caldwell said the spurt in local calls were 34 percent and 51 percent in tolls.

The Bell normally has 65 operators handling its "local" switchboards, but 70 worked Wednesday. Three extra "toll" operators worked. Regular operators who were off duty, Caldwell said, voluntarily reported at the office "to be of help" when the storm increased.

Shaw Says Court Action To Be Taken

Democratic County Chairman Battle Will Reach Courts He Says

Further action in the Democratic row in this county over the election of a county chairman was indicated today when Chairman John B. Shaw stated that court action would be entered to prevent the placing of the chairman's position upon the ballot. Just what form this acvtion will take is not known but a decision is expected within the next twenty four hours.

The action whatever it is, will seek to restrain the county commissioners from placing the position upon the ballot. As the matter stands today it will be put on, following a decision by County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., Mr. McElwee ruled that on the facts as presented by George McWherter of Greensburg the commissioners could do nothing else. The matter of how the committee arrived at the amendment to the rules is not a concern of the commissioners the opinion stated.

Governor James Much Enthused Over Recent Trip

Will Make Further Addresses In Other States For Republican Party

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Elated by his reception at Grand Rapids, Mich., where he castigated the Roosevelt administration, Gov. Arthur H. James today prepared to accept other invitations to campaign outside of Pennsylvania.

The governor said he had received requests for speeches from 12 states and was debating which of them to accept first. He would probably do some campaigning before the Republican national convention, he said.

Governor James said he would speak "for the Republican party" and not for any particular candidate, especially "not for Arthur James personally."

To repeated questions of whether he would inject himself actively into the national picture as a candidate for president, the governor was noncommittal.

Asked whether he would be willing to accept the Republican nomination for vice president, the governor remarked: "I am not seeking either."

"I have a responsibility here as governor of Pennsylvania which I propose to perform to the best of my ability," he added. "Then again, I have a duty to my party."

Governor James said the invitations came from state chairman and from political and governmental circles. Most of them were received before his Lincoln Day speech at Grand Rapids, Mich. No groups had asked him to speak for any particular candidate, he said.

Reports that parts of his Michigan address could be inferred as being critical of the presidential ambitions of Thomas E. Dewey, N. Y. district attorney, were not correct, he said. His speech had no reference to any candidate, he emphasized.

The governor expressed himself as satisfied with the general reaction to his speech.

"They were generous with their applause," he remarked.

OPEN LETTER TO DOCTORS

On one of Greatest Discoveries ever made about

CONSTIPATION

Tests in World-Famous Hospital Made Public. 16 Scientists Discover Way To Produce Nature's Own Gentle Complete "Daily" Bowel Movements

Dear Doctor: We are using the newspapers as the quickest media we know to acquaint you with this sensational news on recent scientific tests on constipation—

Thanks to the persevering research of 16 Scientists who made over 1470 experiments, your patients may now enjoy more gentle, complete daily bowel movements—simply by taking a "little daily dose" of Kruschen—(world-famous formula)—which now comes in delightful, pleasant tasting "bubbling" form. No griping. No nausea. No purging. Kruschen not only makes an ideal "daily" treatment for constipation but it ALSO acts as a mild antacid and kidney stimulant.

HOW IT WORKS

As you know, Doctor, one of the chief causes of constipation is lack of moisture in the colon. Waste then becomes hard, dry, caked, and constipation with its headaches, mental dullness, sallow skin often results.

Now Comes in Sparkling "Bubbling" Pleasant Tasting Form!

These scientific tests showed that many cathartics, laxatives, purgatives and harsh roughage products only "irritated" the bowel into action and resulted in bigger and more frequent doses having to be taken. BUT NOT KRUSCHEN in the "little daily dose"!

These Scientists reported: "We consider this one of the most important investigations we have made and that this small daily dose of Kruschen actually produces nature's own gentle, regular bowel action by maintaining enough moisture in the waste to keep it soft, moist and easy to expel. Kruschen can be taken every day for years with no necessity to increase dosage."

All leading drug stores carry Kruschen. A jar costs only a trifle and will last your patient for weeks. Made right here in U.S.A.

Note: Clinical samples gladly sent to any practicing physician upon request to E. Griffiths Hughes, Inc., Rochester, N. Y.
